

What do those column headers such as HH, HD and HA in the HT / FT betting market mean?

They refer to the different betting options on the half time and full time results of a designated event under the Half Time/Full Time (HT / FT) betting market.

HH	Home / Home	Home team will win both the first half and the match at full time.
HD	Home / Draw	Home team will win the first half, and the match will end in a draw at full time.
HA	Home / Away	Home team will win the first half, but Away team will win the match at full time.
DH	Draw / Home	First half will end in a draw, and Home team will win the match at full time.

DD	Draw / Draw	Both the first half and the match will end in a draw at full time.
DA	Draw / Away	First half will end in a draw, and Away team will win the match at full time.
AH	Away / Home	Away team will win the first half, but Home team will win the match at full time.
AD	Away / Draw	Away team will win the first half, and the match will end in a draw at full time.
AA	Away / Away	Away team will win both the first half and the match at full time.
